

* Basis	Business market	Consumer market
Buyer	Business & organization	Individual people buy for personal use
Number of buyer	fewer but larger buyers	Many individual buyers
Purpose	products are bought for business use or resale	products bought for personal consumption
Buying process	Professional & it involves several people	Usually decided by one person or a family
Relationship	close relation between buyer & seller	less personal relationship

* Organizational buying is the process where a company or organization decides what products or services it needs, compares different options, and chooses the best supplier to buy from.

* Type of organizational buying/Buying situation

- i) straight rebuy
- ii) Modified rebuy
- iii) New task

* Who are involved in buying system/Buying center

i) Initiators

ii) Users

iii) Influencers

iv) Deciders

v) Approvers

vi) Buyers

vii) Gatekeepers

* Buying process

- i) Problem recognition
- ii) General need description
- iii) Product specification
- iv) Supplier search
- v) Proposal solicitation
- vi) Supplier selection
- vii) Order-routine specification
- viii) Performance review

Chapter - 8.

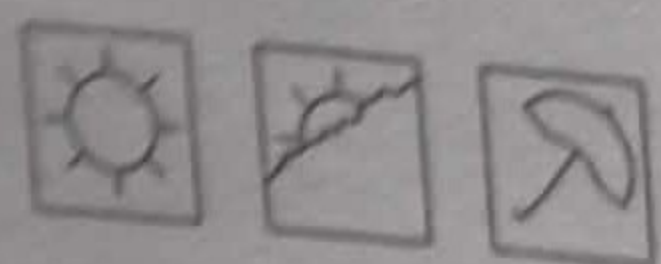

* Market segmentation is the process of dividing a large market into smaller groups of customers who have similar needs, wants or characteristics.

* Segmenting consumer markets

- i) Geographic (location - country, city, region)
- ii) Demographic
- iii) Psychographic (lifestyle, value, personality, interest)
- iv) Behavioral (purchase occasion, attitude toward product) (Buying behavior)

* Age & life cycle

- Life stage
- Gender
- Income
- Generation
- Social class

Sa Su Mo Tu We Th Fr

Chapter-9

Date: ____/____/____

* A brand is a name, symbol, sign, design or a combination of these, that identifies a company's product or service & makes it different from competitors.

* Brand portfolio is the collection of all the brands and brand lines that a company sells in a particular market or product category.

* Role of Brand

Consumer benefits

- identify maker
- Simplifies decision making
- Reduces risk

Marketer Benefits

- Simplify product handling
- Protect unique features
- Create loyalty
- Establish barriers to entry

* How can a brand be developed?

- i) Brand elements (name, logo, slogan)
 - ii) ~~Marketing~~ Marketing activities (good customer experience, word of mouth)
 - iii) Secondary associations (celebrities, event, places, well known brands)
- Holistic

* Building Brand equity

