

Saidul Islam Fahim

I'd - 20253014

Course code - EMBA 504

Batch - 43

Date : / /

Answer to the question 5

Working for life could be highly desirable for individuals who value positive organizational culture, meaningful work, social impact. The company's emphasis on optimism and purpose can enhance job satisfaction and motivation. But it may not suit everyone. Individuals who prefer highly structured environments or traditional corporate system might find the culture less aligned with their expectation. Overall it is an attractive workplace for those who resonate with its value.

Answer to the question 6

For customer services, managers must ensure consistent brand experience across all channels by training employees in the company's values and maintaining responsiveness to customer feedback. For innovation they need to continuously develop new products and designs while staying true to the brand's core message. Encouraging creativity and leveraging customer insights will be key. For sustainability, managers should focus on ethical sourcing and maintaining transparency in social and initiatives. Strengthening partnerships like project 300 and integrating sustainability into business strategy will help sustain long-term credibility and growth.

Date :/...../.....